

Why are not all European film archives represented on the EFG?

Portal

The European Film Gateway is the result of an EU-funded project which started in 2008 with 14 European partner archives. For the first time, a number of film archives made a joint effort to give online access to selected collections via one portal. Over the years, further European archives got connected to the EFG, mainly through the follow-up project EFG1914. Today, over 30 European film archives contribute content to the EFG and the portal is open for contributions from further film archives.
