

How can I get hold of First World War films available on the EFG?

Portal

The European Film Gateway showcases the digital collections of over 30 European film archives. The analogue films as well as the digital files are held by the archives contributing to EFG. In order to get high resolution material, please contact the archives directly. If you're looking for First World War films specifically, please visit our First World War Films - Title list that includes the necessary contact information to the archives.
