Scottish Screen Archive at National Library of Scotland

>> View collection The selection of films from the National Library of Scotland on European Film Gateway are mostly non-fiction, and include documentaries, newsreels, educational material, television, public information films, industrial, advertising and promotional material. Major collections represented include the Films of Scotland Collection,the Scottish Television and Grampian Television collections and a whole host of other unique items that share Scotland’s story in moving images.